Review* Part II Additional Information

General Information

Review Part II is a series of supplementary issues of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis Review, a bimonthly journal of economic research published continuously since 1969. Unlike traditional Review issues, which include research only from staff economists and visiting scholars affiliated with the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, the Review Part II series will publish work from economists affiliated with the Federal Reserve System – that is, the Reserve Banks and the Board of Governors. Manuscripts submitted to this series will move through a standard peer-review process, and all work accepted for publication will be selected by an independent editorial board comprising economists affiliated with the Federal Reserve System.

Info for Authors

The editorial board of Review Part II invites submissions from researchers at the Federal Reserve Banks and Board of Governors, as well as scholars associated with those institutions. In the near future, we will use an online submission process. At this time, please submit PDFs of papers directly to the Editor-in-Chief, William Gavin: gavin@stls.frb.org.

Citations and Indexing

The Review's ISSN is 0014-9187.

The number of citations that the Review receives is near the average for peer-reviewed journals in economics. It has been abstracted in the Journal of Economic Literature (JEL) since 1969, and it was accepted into the Social Sciences Citation Index (SSCI) in 2005.*

* The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis Review is just the second publication in the Federal Reserve System – and the only active one – to be accepted into the Social Sciences Citation Index. The index includes more than 1,700 of the world's leading scholarly social sciences journals covering more than 50 disciplines.
